

VOLLEYBALL:

Saskatchewan Huskiettes won their third straight Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union title March 5-7, at Victoria.

The Golden Bears of Alberta gave Canada West another reason to whoop it up, winning the men's crown.

Huskiettes, coached by Mark Tennant, defeated Manitoba (Great Plains) in the final, 15-8, 15-8, 12-15, 15-5.

In the men's showdown, meanwhile, coach Brian Watson's Golden Bears knocked over Manitoba, 15-13, 13-15, 15-9, 6-15, 15-11.

Saskatchewan's jewel was the fifth in a row for CWUAA - and, the seventh in the association's nine-year history! British Columbia Thunderettes captured the four earlier titles, in 1973, '74, '77 and '78.

In the men's section, Alberta gave Canada West its third crown in six years. British Columbia Thunderbirds won in 1976 and Saskatchewan Huskies, in 1979.

Golden Bears' Terry Danyluk was named the CIAU's male Player-of-the-Year.

He was one of four CWUAA players on the all-Canadian team. The others were: Don Saxton, Saskatchewan; Dave Shokar, Victoria Vikings and Brian Newman, Calgary.

Huskiettes, meanwhile, had two all-Canadians: Joyce Senyk and Giselle Rongve.

In the CIAU tournament, Danyluk and Rongve were MVPs of the twin series.

All-tournament status also was achieved by Dave Wilson, Alberta and Shokar and, in the women's section, Melanie Sanford.

At the conference level, Huskiettes (19-1 during the four-tournament season schedule) defeated British Columbia (16-4) for the CWUAA ticket into the national series. Victoria Vikettes (3rd, 11-9) also qualified as the host school.

In the men's section, the Golden Bears (15-5) upset pennant-winning Saskatchewan (17-3) in the conference final, Feb. 21 at Alberta.

Victoria also got into the CIAUs, as the host.
